One Of Greatest War Machines In U. S. Military History Stands Dis- solved

WIESBADEN, Germany, Aug. 1. (INS)—One of the greatest war machines in U. S. military history was dissolved today with the disbanding of Gen. Omar N. Bradley's 12th army group.

The 12th army group was America's largest combat organization and at one time included 1,233,000 soldiers in the first, third and ninth armies.

Gen. Bradley's group was organized Aug. 1, 1944, a few weeks after the invasion of Normandy. Gen. George S. Patton scored the sensational breakthrough south and west with his third army under Gen. Bradley.

Bradley Vets Head
Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' first army swept through Paris and later was to take the brunt of the German breakthrough at the Ardennes forest.

The ninth army, under Lieut. Gen. William H. Simpson, joined the group later and saw yeoman service as allied armies planned after the retreating, but still hard fighting, Germans inside the Reims area. Gen. Bradley has been named head of the veterans' administration in Washington.

Damage received by the Mississippi at Lingayen was not sufficient to remove her from the battle line. Fires were extinguished within 20 minutes. Later she was detached for repairs.

The Jan plane came in shortly after noon, grazing the navigation bridge, bounced off a gun mount and went over the side. A 250-pound bomb was disgorged from the enemy plane, hit the bridge and plunged over the side, detonating in the water 15 feet from the hull.

At Kiska in July, 1943, the Mississippi fired her first shots of the Pacific war. She also took part in bombarding Kavieng and was in action in the Marshalls, Gilberts, Palau and the famous battle of Surigao Straits in the Philippines.

Men killed in action in the Lingayen attack included Norman Shriver, Findlay, O. Among those who later died of wounds suffered during the attack was Gunner's Mate Harvey Benn Jr., Bellefonte, Pa. Another was John Devorich, Niles, O.

four weeks by Okinawa-based Far East air force planes blocking enemy sealanes. Thus total Jap ship losses in homeland waters stood at more than 899 for less than a month of flaming action.

Terrific Damage
Planes eliminated from Japan's faltering air included 321 demolished and 766 damaged on the ground in addition to the 59 shot out of the skies.

Heavy's audacious attacks, especially aimed to neutralize the enemy air force as well as to wipe out the threat of a Japanese "fleet in being," also have wrought terrific damage to ground installations.

One hundred forty-eight locomotives, prime targets in the badly disrupted Japanese transportation system, were thus far listed as destroyed, and seventy-seven more damaged.

Heavy's surface warships, now entering their 23rd consecutive day in empire waters without having sustained any damage, were credited with eight blistering bombardments of enemy shores, driving from 5 to 16-inch shell blasts into industrial and military targets.

Two Week's City Payroll $20,284

When you're trying to figure up all of the things which your taxes go to pay for, don't forget to include the imposing sum of $20,284, which is the two-weeks payroll for city employees, according to City Clerk C. Ed Brown.

This report includes only city employees and not city officials whose monthly payroll for July amounted to $2,972.86. Of the employees, the largest amount went to the firemen who collectively earned $4,577.72.

The largest sum went to the police department whose employees earned $4,124.20. Street department employees were paid a total of $2,967.01, while $1,876.27 went to garbage department employees, $1,414.78 to Cascade Park employees, and $1,097.86 to those who work under the city property department. Other groups earned various lesser amounts.

The city officials, in case you are trying to count them, include the mayor and council, the city engineer, the city auditor, the city assessor, the city clerk and the assessor.

What Do You Know About Funeral Service?

While funeral service is one of the oldest of the professions, there is little public knowledge about its operation.

The management of the Boyd Home for Funerals believes the public is entitled to know, and publishes these educational announcements toward that end.

Further than that we invite anyone interested to call for a frank discussion of funeral service and its cost.

And to see how completely we are equipped for the service you have a right to expect from your funeral director.

There is neither charge nor other obligation for consulting us about funeral service.

HUGE JAP LOSSES

FROM THIRD FLEET

ATTACKS REVEALED

Terrific Damage

Planes eliminated from Japan's faltering air arm included 321 demolished and 766 damaged on the ground in addition to the 59 shot out of the skies.

Halcyon's audacious attacks obviously aimed to neutralize the threat of a Japanese fleet in being, also have wrought terrific damage to ground installations.

One hundred forty-eight locomotives, prime targets in the badly disrupted Japanese transportation system, were thus far listed as destroyed and seventy-seven more damaged.

Halcyon's surface warships, now entering their 23rd consecutive day in empire waters without having sustained any damage were credited with eight blistering bombardments of enemy shores, driving from 5 to 16-inch shell blasts into industrial and military targets.

Arrested In Austria

Most hated man in France, Laval was arrested by troops of the U. S. 6th Division after landing near Linz in a German plane piloted by two Luftwaffe pilots dressed in civilian clothes. The Spanish government expelled him from their country.

With Laval was his wife. Both appeared tired and did their best to avoid photographers.

The former slave-master who sent thousands of his fellow-countrymen to enforced labor and death in Germany will be brought to Paris in utmost secrecy to avoid demonstrations by an almost universally hostile populace.

wind accompanied a pelting rain and the two combined laid down much corn, tomatoes and other vegetables. The wet weather of the past few days has kept gardeners from dusting beans, cabbage and cucumbers and spraying potatoes and the insect pests, muscades, bed bugs, etc., have been making hay while the sun doesn't shine.

Because they couldn't rent a boat at Lake LeBoeuf, at Waterford, William Rook, Harold and Archie Shaffer of Paradise, moved over to Edinboro lake where the former landed a 22-pound muskellunge, largest caught in those waters for three years. The fish measured 46 inches and was landed without net or gaff after a 30-minute struggle.

New inspection stickers are required on all autos in use here today. The deadline for having cars inspected expired at midnight.

Dead fish in large numbers were seen floating down the Allegheny yesterday. Herman G. Ort, Railroad street, Glassport, reported the discovery. The fish varied in length, some as long as seven or eight inches. Among the breeds floating down stream were sunfish, suckers and bluegills.

School Board To Probe Play Morals

Content That 'Chicken Every Sunday' Is Unfit For School Auditorium Presentation

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 1.—(INS)—A minister's charge that the play 'Chicken Every Sunday' is 'sensational and immoral' resulted in an emergency meeting of suburban Shorewood's school board today to consider the accusation.

The school board's involvement was occasioned by the fact that this play and others, presented by a stock company, the port players, have as their improvised theater the Shorewood high school auditorium.

In an informal meeting yesterday with some of the school directors and Miss Myra Peachie, business manager for the stock company, the Rev. Meredith M. Hogue, pastor of the Shorewood Presbyterian church, declared:

'That play "Chicken Every Sunday" was full of suggestive and worse than suggestive lines and there was no joke in it that was not based on lewd and immoral conduct.'

'In the eyes of the school children, these presentations held in school must seem to have the approval of the school.'

Army Food Needs Are Expected To Show Decreases

Decline Small Now, But Will Continue As Army Decreases, Spokesman Believes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(INS)—An army spokesman states that military food requirements have passed their peak and will continue to decline as the size of the army decreases.

A senate small business subcommittee was informed by Maj. Gen. C. A. Harding of the quartermaster general's office that 1946 estimates of the army's meat requirements, for example, are near 600 million pounds lower than the 1945 figure.

Inductees Need Food, Too
Harding said the rate of decline was not as great as had been expected because the number of men discharged was to some extent made up by those inducted. He pointed out savings had been effected by the termination of the need for combat rationing in Europe.

The army's purchases of such items as meat, butter and eggs, Harding explained, are on a seasonal basis. Meat set-asides are at their lowest during the summer months because meat production is at an ebb in this period.

As production rises, the army's set-asides can be expected to increase accordingly with consequent inroads into civilian supply, Harding stated.

Spillage Loss Small
He told the committee the army's loss of butter and meat through spillage was "so small, it surprised me." This is the result of unusual precautions taken in the case of foods which are critically short, he added.

Dr. D. A. Fitzgerald of the Department of Agriculture informed the subcommittee that of three million pounds of butter handled by the Army, only 3,000 spoiled in storage and had to be sold for other uses.

Meantime Sen. Kenneth Wherry (R) Neb., predicted that meat will be scarcer than ever next winter.

HEARING ON BUS LINE
Before Examiner J. A. Adams of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, the application of the West Ridge Transportation company for an amendment in its franchise rights between New Castle and New Wilmington was heard Tuesday.

The company has asked permission to divert a bus each day north and south from route 18, its present operating route, to the so-called lower road between the two places.

S. C. Hermann, traffic manager of the company, said the West Ridge wished to give some bus service to residents on the lower road, following the many requests for it. The company proposes to divert the second section of one of the trips south from New Wilmington to New Castle and to send the 4:20 p. m. bus north the same way.

J. J. Francis and Mrs. Edith Mounts testified to the need for service on the "back road" and for the citizens pretesting the change.

Boys D. Rosenberger and Jacob Kurtz testified.

The examiner will take the testimony under advisement and hand down an answer later.

MARKET TRADING VOLUME IS SLIM

Scattered Selling Wave Checks Market Climb Of First Two Days Of Week

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—(INS)—Scattered selling today checked the recent upward movement of stock market prices. Offerings were meager but in the absence of active bidding, averages for most leading groups declined fractionally. Trading volume was slim.

Steel issues dipped fractionally on opening sales with U. S. Steel off nearly a point. Chrysler drifted off to 108 1/4, off 1/2. Graham Page Motors finally ran into profit taking, slumping a point.

Rail equities softened as much as 7-8 with B. & O. leading. Aviation issues hovered around yesterday's closes. Utilities, rail equipments, and communications were featureless. DuPont rallied but other chemicals lost.

Bond prices were firm and quiet.

Federal Furs Offer Redecorated Salon

Under New Management, Store Shows Wares In New, Softly Modern Setting

Feminine, modern and with an atmosphere more of the salon than the store, Federal Furs, 203 East Washington street, are offering their new fall merchandise in a completely redecorated setting and with an entirely new sales force.

For seven weeks the store was busy getting its interior dressed up under the direction of the new manager, Jerome Wiley, of New York, and it is now ready for the close scrutiny of the ladies.

Fluorescent lighting throughout the main show room gives daylight honesty to the appearance of every color and texture and yet is softened by decorative rose and blue neon lighting. The walls are pink and blue, but are relieved of any suggestion of over-pretentious by a pale, dusty look against which the Persian lamb squirrel and muskrat coats are displayed most effectively.

Or, if you are more interested in some of the new cloth suits and coats in high colors and dressy tailoring, the clerks will be glad to point out what is on hand, and for those who like personal touches to their clothes, or even specially designed suits and coats, Mr. Wiley can design the clothes or add a bit of chic to an otherwise ordinary suit.

The attitude of the whole store is co-operation and service, emphasizes Mr. Wiley, and the sales force will be just as glad to have the feminine public stop in to look around as they will be to sell their coats and suits and furs to that same public.

BOMBING MISSIONS SHOW POWERFUL STRATOSPHERE GALE

Indicate that these tremendous winds originate on a weather front extending from the southern Philippine Islands to the latitude of approximately Tokyo where the hot winds from China, Siberia and the Gobi desert flowing southward meet the damp northwesterly trades. Result of the meeting of these conflicting air currents appears to set up a vast air flow at stratosphere heights which flows northeastward along the line of the Japanese Islands, then follows the Aleutians to the American continent where it splits one branch following the Pacific coast southward, the other cutting inland across the American continent to central Canada.

Airplane tell of American planes which succeed in remaining in this latter current. One of these is credited with making the trip from Guam to Washington, D. C. on one tankful of gas in approximately 24 hours. To do this it must have flown at an average speed of somewhere between 500 and 600 miles per hour.

Gen. Roosevelt Denies Father Aided In Loans

Makes First Statement Since Accusations Were Made Some Weeks Ago

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—INS—Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt today denied today that his father, the late president, had aided him in securing loans now being probed by the treasury department and the congressional committee.

"Any statement that he ever did so is a deliberate, infamous lie," Roosevelt said. "I conducted my own business affairs. The responsibility for them was and still is mine and mine alone."

The statement, issued by his attorney, Randolph Paul, former treasury department general counsel, came as the 34-year-old second son of the late president prepared to leave the army air force on August 15.

Roosevelt claimed that a small, unimportant section of the army which now are located in Alaska, the Philippines, and the South Atlantic, had secured a "false commission" again, long and the father who said he had not.

The statement was the first made by Roosevelt since reports were published last June that he had received a $200,000 loan from John Harford, president of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. in 1939.

SUPER-LINERS PASSE

NEW YORK (INS)—It is unlikely that super-colossal ships like the Normandy, Queen Mary, or Rex will be constructed to fill postwar travel demands, believes Ships magazine. The new postwar ships will be in the 17,000 to 27,000 ton class, for shipping men believe the day of additional sea-going mammoths has passed.

DOING HIS BIT

MEDIA, Pa.—(INS)—The war is quite a distance from the confines of Andrew Beard's prison cell, but he has shed quite a bit of blood for victory. Beard, 31, of Chester, is a prisoner on Broadmeadows Farm, near Media. He recently contributed his fourteenth pint of blood at a Red Cross mobile unit.

With winter still five months away the frost, it appears, is already on that Jap co-prosperity sphere.

Full Employment
Seen By Farmers
As Best Solution

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 1.—(INS)—

A poll conducted by the education department of the Ohio Farm Bureau reveals that most farmers believe that full industrial employment rather than any governmental farm program is the solution to agriculture's problems of prosperity and security.

The poll was taken among 18,000 farm residents who are members of the farm bureau advisory council study and discussion groups. According to Carl R. Hutchinson who conducted the poll, a four-to-one majority of those sampled favored agriculture's insistence upon joint action with industry and labor to provide full employment, by an even larger majority, those sampled demanded that the small family type farm be maintained.

A considerable number of those queried believed that government should limit itself to protecting the public from unfair practices by any one group. An almost equal number maintained that government should take up slack in employment with public works projects of a useful and lasting nature.

NEED TESTING STATION

VANCOUVER, B. C.—(INS)—What Vancouver needs apparently is a testing station for testing testing stations. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Bell, motorists, filed suit against the city because Mrs. Bell allegedly was injured while their automobile was being checked at the municipal vehicle testing station. They said the woman was hurled against the windshield when the automobile was braked suddenly during the tests.

Yield Of Fruit
Depends Upon
Water Available

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 1.—(INS)—

Yields of fruit in Ohio orchards planted on desirable sites are dependent upon the amount of water available to the trees, in the opinion of F. H. Beach, extension horticulturist at Ohio State university.

"Fruit trees," said Beach, "are heavy drinkers but at the same time protest against being placed where the soil is so waterlogged that air is excluded."

Beach suggested that orchards be planted on north slopes having well drained soils and that for orchards already planted methods be used to increase the power of the soil to absorb and retain rainfall. The two most practical methods, he explained, are to supply the orchard with straw or similar material, or to till the orchard on the contour.

Much, he pointed out, not only acts as a cover for a natural water reservoir but also prevents soil erosion, hinders weed growth, and is a blanket to catch marketable fruit which drops before being picked.

Any orchard disk or other tillage operation should be done on the contour, Beach said, so as to slow up the runoff of rainfall and give it a better chance to soak into the ground.

In the desert lands of Australia are to be found great white ant hills.

MOST IMPORTANT ROLE

BOSTON (INS)—The U. S. S. TOUGH ON NERVES

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Nothing is more rugged on the nervous system, in the opinion of Staff Sgt. Milton Katman of 74th Army Medical Center, than to be posted down to a zone of lights during a night mission.

Two it happened to Sgt. Katman's B-24 crew last June, he said, and both times he felt as naked as a Christmas turkey.

AIR SERVICE ANNIVERSARY

U. S. Army air power was born 38 years ago today as an experimental division of the signal corps. Its personnel consisted of one officer and two enlisted men. It had no airplanes.

Today the Army Air Forces comprise the world's greatest military air arm, with a personnel of two and a half million men, perhaps 100,000 planes, a giant global network of supply lines and airbases, and history's mightiest air striking force.

Its first airplane, delivered by the Wright brothers in 1908, crashed at Fort Myer, Va., killing the pilot. The second plane, also a Wright, was more successful and among the few first Army pilots who learned to fly it was the present commander of the AAF, five-star Gen. Henry H. Arnold.

When the U. S. entered World War I the Army's aviation section had only 35 flyers and 44 obsolete planes. But under the impetus of war the air arm grew swiftly and by 1920 it "graduated" into independence as the Army Air Service.

Japanese Again Warned By U. S. On Prisoner Camps

Japs Place American Prisoners Too Close To Military Objectives

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(INS)—The United States was today warned by the Japanese government that it would hold the Japanese government responsible for any failure on its part to protect the lives and health of American nationals in Japanese custody.

A formal statement said that "the persistent and methodical practice of the Japanese government in locating prisoners of war camps in areas subject to aerial bombardment has long been a matter of grave concern to the United States government." The practice, it added, violates the Geneva convention.

U. S. protests began in September, 1944. The replies received to representations made through the Swiss by Tokyo have been "evasive," it added.

The fact that some American prisoners were casualties of the bombing of a camp at Kawasaki, southeast of Tokyo, July 26 was broadcast by the Tokyo radio. The state department, in setting forth steps taken to prevent just such an occurrence, said that no official confirmation had been received either from the International Red Cross or from the Swiss officials who protect American interests in Japan.

As late as last June, the department said, "the United States government again warned the Japanese government that it would hold the Japanese government responsible for any failure on its part to protect the lives and health of American nationals in Japanese custody."

The work is not moving as fast as the two departments would like. Nor is it moving fast enough to satisfy the businessmen and private citizens who would like to put their money to work again.

Both sides realize that the sooner the funds are "defrosted" the sooner they can be put to work in reconstructing Europe and restoring normal business relations. All countries would benefit.

But the chief impediment is in making sure that all Nazi interest in the vast horde of wealth is eliminated before it is turned loose. Assistant Secretary of State William L. Clayton made this clear in testimony before a congressional committee several weeks ago.

Seek To Speed Release Of Funds Of United Nations

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(INS)—The State and Treasury Departments were today moving with all possible speed to release the billions of dollars worth of property belonging to friendly nations which was frozen or appropriated by the Axis.

The work is not moving as fast as the two departments would like. Nor is it moving fast enough to satisfy the businessmen and private citizens who would like to put their money to work again.

Both sides realize that the sooner the funds are "defrosted" the sooner they can be put to work in reconstructing Europe and restoring normal business relations. All countries would benefit.

Johnstown Hero Is Given Welcome

Lt. John Tomanic Congressional Medal Winner Acclaimed By Johnstown Citizens

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 1.—(INS)—Congressional Medal of Honor Winner Lt. John T. Tomanic and his pretty blonde wife today followed up last night's "surprise" homecoming celebration with one of their own—their second wedding anniversary.

The home folks gave their 22-year-old hero a unique welcome—a resplendent horse-drawn carriage to carry him, his wife and mother through the streets to Central park.

There thousands waited to give him a formal welcome.

Lieutenant Tomanic was "spell-bound" by the tremendous ovation. Overcome with emotion he was unable to answer their cries for a speech.

Lieutenant Tomanic was awarded the nation's highest honor for riding a blazing abandoned tank into an enemy stronghold in Vesoul, France, last September and knocking out a roadblock. His heroic feat resulted in the death of capture of 60 Nazis.

Seek To Prevent Family's Eviction

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 1.—(INS)—Federal Judge R. M. Gibson had under advisement today an OPA injunction suit restraining a landlady from evicting five-months-old Carol Ann Shook, her mother and grandparents from a Mt. Lebanon apartment.

The OPA contended the landlady, Mrs. Edith C. Little, ordered eviction because Carol Ann and her mother moved into an apartment. Mrs. Little denied the charge, saying she planned to marry and live in the apartment herself. She also denied that she objected because too much water was used to wash the child's clothes.

Carol Ann's father, William F. Shook, is with the army air force in Florida.

State Warns Farmers Against 'Hijackers' Of Beef And Pork

HARRISBURG, Aug. 1.—(INS)—Pennsylvania farmers were warned today by the state agriculture department to guard against beef and hog "hijackers."

Dealers were urged to demand registration cards before delivering livestock.

"State laws protect the farmer in that no one is permitted to buy or sell livestock within the commonwealth without a state livestock dealer's license," Secretary Miles Hest explained.

"I caution all farmers approached by strangers passing themselves off as livestock dealers to request that they show a state registration card," he added. "This is a racket and we must have the cooperation of farmers to stop it."

Young Driver Held For Woman's Death

MERCER, Aug. 1.—Seventeen-year-old James Weber of Millvale has been released on $1,000 bail and will be held for the next juvenile court because of the death of Mrs. Hazel Palmer, Grove City, who was killed instantly in an automobile accident involving the car which Weber was driving.

The accident occurred near Mercer on Monday. Weber and three friends, Joseph Kochman and three occupants of the Palmer car have left the Mercer Cottage hospital, but Mrs. Palmer's husband and son are still under treatment.

Wartime Prohibition Efforts All Rejected

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(INS)—Administration officials, it was learned today, have flatly opposed attempts to enact wartime prohibition legislation on the grounds it is impractical and undesirable.

A group of high government leaders, including Secretary of War Stimson, were polled on their views of the Bryson bill, which seeks to impose prohibition as a wartime measure, and expressed unanimous opposition to the legislation.
